Cancellations

Holiday camps are non-refundable or transferable. If you must cancel, we will try accommodating a different date for you if possible.

Live Borders reserves the right to cancel Camp B sessions due unavoidable/ unforeseen circumstances.

In the case of Live Borders cancelling Camp B, we will provide 5 days' notice and provide full refunds.

Food and water

We kindly ask that all children attending bring a filled water bottle and a snack to have during the session.

Please avoid including any common allergy related foods in packed lunches. Items such as nuts, nut-based spreads, and products containing sesame as we may have some kids at the camps with allergies related to foods in packed lunches.

Kids to coach ratio

Camp B aims to be inclusive and welcoming to all children. Children who require 1-to-1 support or additional care are very welcome to attend.

However, please note that our coaches work to a set coach-to-child ratio and are unable to provide dedicated 1-to-1 supervision. Parents or carers will therefore need to provide an appropriate support person to attend alongside their child for the duration of the camp.

If you would like to discuss your child's individual needs before booking, please feel free to contact us and we will be happy to help.

First Aid

First aiders will always be on site during the camps and provided basic first aid should this be required. If your child is injured or upset during the camp, we will contact you immediately.

Photographic images- Consent

Live Borders will have marketing at the camps looking to gather images of the kids having fun and participating in various activities. On the day of the camp the coaches will ask you if you're happy for your child's photo to be taken. If you do consent to your child's photo being taken, we will ask you to complete a form on the morning of the camp. Should you wish to withdraw consent this can be done at any time by informing Live Borders via writing.

All images taken will only be used for marketing purposes of Camp B. Images may be used on social media channels or company website.
